TRANSFERS EFFECTED IN FOUR BITUMINOUS MINING DISTRICTS

Inspector Cunningham
Goes to Somerset and Charles Byrne Comes
Here

NEW MAN IS APPOINTED

John Langan Takes Place of John F. Bell Who in Turn is Transferred to Byrne's
Place at McKeesport

Through changes and transfers in the department of mines in the bituminous region of Pennsylvania, F. W. Cunningham, of Charleroi, mining inspector of the twenty-first district has been moved to the Somerset district, known as the twentieth. He will leave Charleroi tomorrow and Charles P. Byrne, who has been inspector in the twenty-second district with headquarters at McKeesport will be here to assume charge of the work in the twenty-first.

The transfer of Inspector Cunningham to the twenty-first district is made necessary primarily through the resignation of Richard Maize, the inspector who held his position to accept ore with the United Coal company. The coming of Mr. new he will be given the thirteenth would leave a vacancy in the twenty-second, but this is filled by the transfer from Monongahela of John F. Bell, who has been inspector in the thirteenth district.

One new inspector will be added to the force, John Langan, who will take up the work in the thirteenth district. Probably owing to the fact that he is new he will be given the thirteenth district rather than some other. Being located in Monongahela he will have an opportunity to be guided somewhat by Alexander McCleanch, inspector in the first district, who is an older and experienced man.

In the Somerset region Mr. Cunningham will have about 70 mines under his jurisdiction. On the whole they are all very small, and some of them very bad. In the district which he leaves Mr. Cunningham had supervision over 21 mines, but they are mostly large. The Vesta No. 1 mine for instance, would make about 20 of some of the Somerset region mines. The Somerset region demands the attention of a particular competent inspector. Mr. Maize was getting things in good shape there when he resigned. Mr. Cunningham is recognized among the inspectors and among the miners generally as one of best inspectors and coal men in the entire state, and it was probably due to his experience and wide knowledge that he was given supervision in Somerset field.

Mr. Cunningham has been located four years in the twenty-first district, coming here when the district was first formed. He has been a careful and exacting official and the general result has been in his favor. The mines are now on a better operating basis from his supervision and the total of accidents have been lessened.

Donora Man Tries to Save Trouble by Suicide and Fails

LIFE IS SAVED THRICE

While temporarily insane, James Montague, aged 69, of Donora, attempted to drown himself three times in the Monongahela river at the foot of McClure avenue, Homestead Monday. Each time the aged man was rescued by William Harris, a driver, who finally turned him over to Policeman George Gesse. Believing that he had been sentenced to death for a crime he did not commit is the aberration of the aged man.

Harris saw the man jump into the river and rescued him. He told him to go home, and to the surprise of Harris, Montague jumped into the water again. Harris rescued the aged man a second time. Not suspecting that there was anything wrong with the mind of the old man, Harris released him and started away.

As Harris turned his back the old man jumped into the river again. For a third time Harris jumped into the river and rescued him. This time Harris held him and turned him over to a policeman. He was taken to the Homestead police station and when questioned by the police he said:

"I have been sentenced to death for a crime I did not commit. The executioners kept putting off my execution and I decided I would show them I was not afraid to die. So this morning I went to the river and said to the boys (there were no boys there) that I was ready to die and asked one of them to push me into the river as I did not want to die a suicide. But the nerve of the boys failed them, so I jumped into the river."

He will likely be committed to the Allegheny county home at Woodville today.

Proposes to Operate Through Trains Connellsville According to Story Told

ANNOUNCEMENT COMING

Road Will be Ready Soon to Institute Traffic--Pittsburgh Cut-off is Go-Freight Feeder

The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie actually preparing to open up passenger service through the Monongahela valley to Connellsville according to information contained a story printed in the Connellsville Courier. The Courier says:

Officials of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, it is learned from an authoritative source, contemplate arranging main line for passenger service between Pittsburgh and Connellsville. It is proposed to utilize the Monongahela division and the Whitsell cut striking the present main line at 11th Station.

Whether the Lake Erie will practically to run its fast B more and Chicago Special over new route is yet to be determined, it is anticipated that trains will travel by the new route. Though the distance would somewhat greater, advantages are offered from a traffic standpoint to this handicap.

On the Youghiogheny division there is but one town between Keesport and Connellsville which worth while from a passenger traffic standpoint. That town is West Newton. The passenger business is not great, either. On the other hand the Monongahela division, up to Fayette City cutoff, passes through Monessen, Charleroi and Monongahela, three busy, bustling communities which are now without an outlet to the east except by a roundabout way. Even Fayette City is the end of West Newton as a traffic feed.

It has been stated by officials the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie that new route will be given serious consideration. The Monongahela towns are actively booming proposition and as boosters these towns have few equals in this connection. Announcement is also made that as soon as the necessary connections are completed the "Lion Giant" officials will seriously consider the matter of local train service between Connellsville and Brownsville.

There is every indication that a long-sought for noon train to Pittsburgh may materialize in the near future and the chances are particularly bright if the train is run by way of Whitsett and Fayette City. Such a train would leave Connellsville at 12:10 and arrive in Pittsburgh in time for a matinee or ball game. It would be of great advantage, only to Connellsville patrons those along the West Penn line here, but patronage could be expected out of the Monongahela line.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie with its Western Maryland affiliations, is going after passenger business and will probably be the road which will supply coke region travelers with a noon train to Pittsburgh a long-felt want."

AS TO HOME TRAINING.

The attention of many cities and towns has been turned to Charleroi through the action of the school board in entering domestic science as one study in the high school and grammar grade department curriculum. It seems that Charleroi is getting just a wee bit ahead and progressing more rapidly than many municipalities larger by far than it. Consequently it is setting a pattern. The Harrisburg Telegraph editorially commenting on Charleroi's progress under the head of "Home Training at Schools" says:

"Governor Tener's town, Charleroi, has outstripped Harrisburg in the matter of domestic training for its children."

"The school board of Charleroi has just installed a domestic science course for girls, which will provide for them the sort of practical instruction that the boys now get in the manual training schools. There will be instruction in cooking, sewing and all other household duties, so that the girl graduate in Charleroi will not be entirely unprepared to assume the duties of the housewife if the unexpected should happen and their brilliant plans for a career of single blessedness be interfered with by marriage."

"The Telegraph has frequently urged the Harrisburg School Board to incorporate domestic science into the curriculum of our public schools and once the project got so far as a favorable report on the plan from a committee of the board.

A few more such examples as that of Charleroi may cause the board to view the matter in a new light. Superintendent Devers, in his annual report made public yesterday, expresses himself very emphatically on the subject of industrial education in the grammar grades. He states that 83 per cent of the public school pupils do not reach the high school and that is this 83 per cent which most needs the industrial education, now confined to the high school and to the boys in the high school.

"Domestic science would, of course, be included under the head of industrial training for girls, and we will agree with the superintendent that it cannot begin too early."

RIGHT KIND OF MEDICINE.

Accidents will happen, and doubtless the victims of automobile accidents are as much or more to blame for the cause than the driver of the machine. But the public, regardless of who is directly blameable for death or injury through an auto collision with another vehicle or in running against or over a pedestrian, has the utmost contempt and will hear of no excuse from the chauffeur who in order to escape identity cowardly runs away from his victim and leaves the latter to suffer or die.

The public will note with some satisfaction that by a decision of the New York court of appeals, Edward T. Rosenheimer must stand trial for the killing of Grace Hough three years ago. The defendant, a man of wealth, ran the girl down in his automobile one dark night and fled after refusing to give his name. He has fought the case as far as he is able to fight it, spending a large amount of money to escape trial.

Automobilists as well as pedestrians, are unanimous in their protest at reckless and dangerous speeders, who make life on the public highways hazardous. When such men are aware that they have sacrificed lives to the mania for speed, run away and hide, refusing to face any responsibility, they are doubly dangerous. The courts cannot determine whether or not Rosenheimer is criminally responsible for this girl's death. More important still, no speed maniac hereafter can hope to make demands for compensation when an effort is made to bring him to justice for taking human life.

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs. Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Kosco and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with the undertaking.

The Ford Forges to the Front.
In the Mountain Climbing Contest conducted recently the Ford car outdistanced all competitors in the 1,000 car class, covering the distance in 19 seconds less than her nearest competitor, clearly demonstrating that she has the "class" and is in a class by herself. The Ford roadster, costing $525.00, negotiated the distance in one second more than cars costing two, three, and in one case at least nine times as much. This clearly demonstrates that in their class Ford cars fear none and that Ford owners as well as Ford builders are always in the front of the Auto Class Parade.

Out of 61,443 men employed in 1912, and employees continue to take service on the Pennsylvania Railroad, chances with death, and the Railroad.

Record of tests made in 1912 give an excellent indication of the hearth of injuries or endangering.

Freight trains were operated on the Pennsylvania Railroad for a total distance of 32,114,305 miles in 1912. As passenger trains ran over 40,000,000 miles, all trains covered a total of more than 72,000,000 miles—and 21 people, 4 passengers and 17 employees were killed in accidents to trains.

The greatest problem the Railroad has to solve in its efforts to conserve safety is to find ways to protect those who won't protect themselves. Unfortunately, passengers, trespassers as far as possible.

WORKING AT CAPITAL

At midnight the Conference Committee on the state-wide primaries bill went into what was supposed to be its final session. The conference express hope in reaching an agreement. At the meeting motions were made by the house members to strike out the provisions relating to the pre-emption of party names, fusion and assistance of voters. In each case the vote was three to three, the house voting to strike out and the senate to keep the sections in the bill. The result of the tie is that the provisions will not be eliminated. The question now before the conference is this one of allowing nominations by nomination papers. It is probable that the Hume plan in a modified form will be accepted.

THIS is one of the biggest years in the dress business. Everybody's wearing dresses and we are selling dresses every day and we have a grand line to select from. They are from the best makers of the New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland markets. They have snap and style and yet so becoming that any one can wear them. Regular sizes and stout sizes. Get in the buying while they go cheap. We have a few white dresses for ladies that go at half price. It will pay to see these. The children's dresses are the handsomest goods ever bought by this store and range in price from $3.00, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00 and 10, and are more or less staple as to style, yet they go at 20 per cent reduction. So we urge ladies, misses and children to grasp this opportunity to save on dresses.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored

Mrs. LeClear's Health—Her Own Statement

Detroit, Mich.—"I am glad to discover a remedy that relieves me from my suffering and pains. For two years

I suffered bearing down pains and got all run down. I was under a nervous strain and could not sleep at night. I went to doctors here in the city but they did not do me any good.

"Seeing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, I tried it. My health improved wonderfully and I am now quite well again. No woman suffering from female ills will regret it if she takes this medicine."—Mrs. JAMES G. LECLEAR, 336 Hunt St., Detroit, Mich.

Another Case.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is all you claim it to be. About two or three days before my periods I would get bad backaches, then pains in right and left sides, and my head would ache. I called the doctor and he said I had organic inflammation. I went to him for a while but did not get well so I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I was relieved and finally my troubles left me. I married and have two little girls. I have had no return of the old troubles."—Mrs. CHAS. BOYER, 2659 S. Chadwick St., Phila., Pa.
